EPA is committed to working closely with response agencies and state and local officials to ensure the safety of citizens, respond to concerns and to evaluate impact to water contaminated by the Gold King Mine Release. EPA is sharing information as quickly as possible with the public as experts work to evaluate any effects the spill may have on drinking water, public health, agriculture, fish and wildlife.

Please see our website for the latest information: <http://www2.epa.gov/region8/gold-king-mine-release-emergency-response>

Regular updates will be posted as they are available.

Apologies. I misread you're title and thought I was sending directing this to a public information officer. At any rate, I would appreciate you a few minutes of your time for a phone interview if you have the time.

Best,
Justin

Hi Shaun,

I'm a reporter at TIME. Just want to see if I can get the latest from the EPA on the contamination of the Animas River. Is there a release or statement you're sending to reporters?

Thanks,

Justin Worland
